ORDINANCE NO. 578.

Whereas, On the 18th day of January, 1915, in a certain action pending in the district court of Grady county, wherein John White, Allie White and Jesse White, minors, by A. S. Sin Sure to Come to Light so, but the character of God is such as to render impunity from punishment impossible. The psalmist says, "Thou art of too pure eyes to behold iniquity." God can not look upon sin with any allowance. The only thing which hides our sins from the eyes of God is the blood of the Son of God.

Comes in a Natural Way.

"This is so evident that hundreds of examples could be cited. I put Cain on the stand and ask him if it is true that men's sins will find them out. He answers, 'My punishment is greater than I can bear.' I put the question to David and he says, 'O Absalom, my son, my son, would to God I had died for thee, O Absalom my son, my son.' I have in mind a man who had committed many sins and had been tried many times in court for various crimes, and was accused at least twice of murder. But the state could never prove him guilty. Finally his own son was mortally wounded and as he stood over the dying boy he said, 'My God, my God, why is this? He ought to have known why it was. He had been sowing through all the years and now the reaping time had come.'

In Supernatural Ways.

"God will not always endure the wrath of men. As proof of this recall the flood, and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. God sometimes visits in a supernatural way, upon men and communities and nations, the just punishment for their sins. Ananias was struck dead upon the spot for lying. Jehazi was seized with leprosy and died of that incurable disease because he had deceived Elisha. Herod was seized with an incurable disease because he suffered himself to be worshipped as a god.

"But in the lives of nations as well as in the lives of individuals, it is true that God sometimes visits a supernatural punishment for sin. As Pilate was trying to free himself of all connection with the death of Jesus, the Jews said, 'Let his blood be upon us and our children.' Little did they know they were calling down upon themselves the maledictions of heaven; for in the year 70 A. D. Jerusalem was destroyed, and they were scattered to the corners of the earth."

Further illustrations of the working of the same law were found in the history of Spain and Russia and the midster concluded by saying, "My friends, be sure your sin will find you out." Services will be held at 8:15 this evening.
